

Take Heart

Little One, you feel bewildered and weighed down with everything that is happening around you. The more you recalculate your steps and try another way to be successful, the more things spin out of control and you swallow and accept these 'unreal' situations, holding on to this merry-go-round for dear life, trying to keep your head up and simply survive. You possess a fierce heart that will fight for righteousness and justice and you think these trials are a sign to give up and just live on the border - out of everyone's way. Every step forward is an effort as you feel like a failure, but you have persevered in My strength, closed your eyes and moved forward and your obedience has touched My heart, you have found favour in My sight.

Recently, your best efforts were frowned upon or misunderstood and you wonder if you were ever designed to be on this earth and to make a difference. My Child, I just want to impress on your heart that this is a time that you will need to go against the tide of circumstances, even though the human reaction would be the opposite, because I know the strength of the character that I am building in you and I tell you this – that your value is hidden to the world. You are My treasure, My precious masterpiece that I am tending to piece by piece. I am ironing out the wrinkles that you have had many questions about. I am teaching you to rely on My voice and My truth above the praises, whims and judgements of man. Clothe yourself with discernment and a new day that will increase as you lavishly bathe in My ways and My thoughts.

What I really want you to grasp is this – your worth does not depend on what you accomplish at work, how your family sees you, how developed your ministry is, what your friends say about you... your worth is determined by what I say about you.... and I say you are a pleasing fragrance before Me as you reach for My hand again, even through the tears that sting. Commit your way to Me continually, and I will make the crooked places straight. You will move forward at an amazing speed and it will be for My glory because you worship Me in Spirit and in Truth.

Sometimes, you will have done nothing wrong but will be treated as if you have committed a crime. In these times, come into My Holiest of Holies and seek My rhema word, manna from My hand to sustain you, but also to teach you so that you can experience accelerated growth. My word will spread like a wildfire in you and smother the lie that seeks to kill My dream for you. I speak over you that you are pressed, but not crushed, persecuted but not abandoned, struck down, but not destroyed. I am training you with the best skills for battle, clothing you with the finest armour, and placing in your hands a multitude of fine weapons.

My blood flows through your veins and you can do all things through Me. Know Me once again and incline your ear to My voice so that I can lead you into excellence and victory. I will indeed set a table for you in the midst of your enemies, they will rise against you but not even make a dent in you.

2 Chronicles 16:9 For the eyes of the LORD run to and fro throughout the whole earth, to show Himself strong on behalf of those whose heart is loyal to Him.

Laurinda Kruger – 2/6/2010

info@pojc.org www.pojc.org