

Wait upon Me

Isaiah 40:31 But those who wait on the LORD Shall renew their strength; They shall mount up with wings like eagles, They shall run and not be weary, They shall walk and not faint.

Do not think or feel or react as you would have before. Take your eyes off of the things that grab your attention. Lay it before My feet and allow Me to restore and reveal the purpose behind the mess. I am pressing on your heart to seek My presence and counsel. Ask for My eyes, My vision, so that you may soar safe above the clouds and mist of confusion, and emotions and soulish things that tie you down. It's like quicksand drawing you down and deeper into a place where you only focus on survival. But there is more to this life. There is a strategy that I want to show you, so stop struggling, analysing, fighting. My word will set you free, My heart pumps new blood through your veins. Allow the rivers of living water to flow deep into every crevice of your mind, heart and existence. When you feel My hand upon you, surrender. Sit at My feet and I will show you great and mighty things that you never knew. I will open doors and create opportunities that you never dreamt possible. I am doing a new thing. My heart's desire is to see you run with a new song in your heart, truly free. Walk with Me and I will show the way.
